

The Cardiff and Vale Regional Partnership Board (RPB) helps people to live the best lives they can in their homes and communities.

We work with our partners in health, social care and the third sector to transform services and communities to make sure people get the right support, at the right time, in the right place.

We do this because we can deliver better outcomes for people who live in Cardiff and Vale by working together.

About the Ageing Well Partnership

Our Ageing Well Partnership brings together Councillors and people leading on adult health, social care and third sector services from across the region. We want to improve and where necessary transform services in Cardiff and Vale and are currently focusing on:

Dementia

Making Cardiff and Vale a better place for people with dementia and their carers. We will continue to invest in dementia friendly communities, where people with dementia are supported and valued. We want care for people with dementia to focus on what matters most to the individual and providing a wide range of support to help people live the best lives they can.

@Home

An ambitious programme of work which aims to ensure that everyone can access the right service at the right time. This programme aims to deliver a new model of locally-delivered, joined-up care and support linking NHS, councils and third sector services and local community networks. We want to have a joined-up approach to enable people to maintain their independence and wellbeing and have more time to live their lives how they want.

Spreading the word about @Home

We are creating a range of communications about @Home, helping people stay in their homes and communities for as long as possible. This will help increase the number of people and organisations involved with this work and help people spread the word about what we are doing. It aims to clearly set out how organisations are working together, often using existing services but in a more integrated way to make sure that support is delivered in places that are as convenient and local as possible.

Dementia

We recently welcomed Versha Sood to the team working on our Dementia programme. She will be focussing on the next steps of our work around dementia, in particular evaluating the work so far and bringing organisations together to plan for the years ahead. This work will make use of the recently published Population Needs Assessment, which is an evaluation of the needs of people in our region now and in the future with recommendations about how to fill any gaps it has identified in services.

Future ambitions

The Ageing Well Programme Board discussed the need to accelerate their programme of work. They will be producing detailed plans about how services will be integrated to provide care closer to home, to keep people well and make Cardiff and the Vale of Glamorgan a dementia friendly region.

They recognised the scale of their ambitions and the operational pressure that partners had faced over the last two years which have meant some delays in implementing the changes that are needed.

They reiterated their commitment to working together so people in the region have the right support, in the right place, at the right time to keep them living well in their communities for as long as possible.
